

I am pleased to write this letter regarding Project KidSight. This program is critically important to the eye health and future success of our Michigan Children, and I thank all of the Lions who have worked, volunteered and supported the program for over 10 years. Over 2 centuries ago, the poet William Wadsworth observed that "the child is father of the man," and our knowledge sheds new light almost daily on how correct Mr. Wadsworth was.

I cannot stress enough how important Project KidSight is to the children of Michigan. I want to congratulate and thank all of the Lions who have been instrumental to the program's success and growth."
